(Neb.)-Courses To Provide Drought Management Strategies For Cattle Producers

By: Roxie Graham-Marski Posted at: 12/20/2012 11:21 AM

(REGIONAL)-The drought of 2012 reduced forage supply and has produced many challenges for cow/calf producers. The 2012-2013 Beef Short Courses focus on management strategies that will help producers work through and develop plans for their cow/calf enterprise. On Thursday, December 20th, Dr. Richard Randle will address managing body condition and difficult births at calving. Stay tuned for more programs in January as well.

The program runs on Nebraska television station NET2 and starts at 6:00 p.m. MST. For individuals who do not receive NET2, the programs will be available online at <http://beef.unl.edu>.

For more information, call 308-327-2312.
