CASPER, Wyo. (AP) - More than 200 cats are in the custody of Casper authorities after being seized over the weekend.

The manager of Casper's Metro Animal Control and Welfare Agency, Rick Sulzen, says that details about where the animals were taken from won't be released until after the investigation is complete.

Sulzen said checking the health of all the animals has been an overwhelming task. People have been bringing large kennels to the shelter to help house the cats.
