RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) - Police say they've arrested two Rapid City men in connection with three armed robberies committed within 18 hours.

Police say 18-year-old Max Imberi and 23-year-old Ryan Reub face charges of armed robbery.

The men are suspected in three armed robberies, the first occurring at about 9 p.m. Tuesday, and the last at about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. In each, a man walked into a Rapid City business and either flashed or brandished a gun while demanding money, then fled.

Police say that employees at the second and third locations refused to give money. Police tracked the men down based on their vehicle description and recovered a BB gun from them when they were arrested.

Police say the investigation is continuing.
