LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - Nebraska spring turkey hunting permits for 2013 will be available starting at 1 p.m. Central time on Jan. 14.

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission says each permit allows a hunter to take one male or bearded female turkey with bow and arrow in the archery season or a shotgun in the shotgun season. A person may purchase up to three spring turkey permits.

Archery season for youths and adults opens March 25. Shotgun season opens April 6 for youths and April 13 for adults. All seasons close May 31.

Visit OutdoorNebraska.org or Game and Parks permitting offices to buy the permits.
