(KCSR/KBPY) - Chadrad Guest Book sees change

By: John Thayer Posted at: 04/24/2012 12:47 PM

Visitors of the Guest Book on Chadrad.com noticed a change on Tuesday when they visited the site.

The Guest Book now requires patrons to sign in using their Facebook account before posting a comment. If you do not have a Facebook account you can register one for free by going to Facebook.com.

Owner and operator of Chadrad Communication, Inc., the mother ship of Chadrad.com, Dennis Brown says the change is a positive step for the website.

"It's something we have been planning for some time as we continue to update Chadrad.com. Hopefully it will make for more constructive comments," said Brown. "We certainly don't want to restrict anybody's freedom of speech. This makes it easier for us to handle."

Brown added that using Facebook comments is a common theme.

"Using the Facebook is something a lot of places have gone to. It gives comments a wider exposure (because they can be sent directly to the person's Facebook account and viewable for all Facebook friends)."

The site officially changed Tuesday morning and as of Tuesday afternoon posters were in favor of the change.
