(Neb.) - Gering school board to discuss random drug tests

GERING, Neb. (AP) - The Gering School Board is expected to take up a random drug testing policy next week.

Superintendent Don Hague says the issue will be discussed at Monday's meeting. The board has had preliminary talks about the idea, which initially was being considered for students in extracurricular activities.

Hague says there will some discussions about including coaches in the random testing as well.

Neighboring Scottsbluff schools established drug testing several years ago for students, but the district hasn't included coaches.
