CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) - The Wyoming Game and Fish Department says that the deadline for hunters to apply for limited-quota big game licenses on paper applications will be May 15 this year. The deadline to apply for licenses online is May 31.

In previous years, the deadline for both paper and online applications was May 31. In recent years, more than 90 percent of both resident and nonresident hunters have applied online.

The game department says online applications have resulted in increased accuracy, substantial savings and more timely drawings.
