KADOKA, S.D. (AP) - A Kadoka hardware store that has been a staple in the community for nearly seven decades is changing owners.

Randi Oyan and her husband are handing over the reins of Hogen's Hardware to a new couple, the Fromm's.

The store has been in Oyan's family for 67 years. She has been running it with her husband for the past 30 years.

Florence Hogen says after her husband came back from World War II they decided to open up the hardware store. She says she has mixed feelings about it being sold.

Oyan says she did not want to have to close the store down and that is why they are handing it over to new owners.
