The workshop will be held from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on Thursday, March 20th, in Room 231 of the Burkhiser Building on the Chadron State College campus.

The free workshop is open to all turkey hunters, regardless of experience, and will feature Game and Parks specialists covering strategies, equipment, biology and tips on how to become a successful turkey hunter.

Other workshops are planned for March 13th in North Platte, March 15th at Ponca and Platte River State Parks, and April 8th in Lincoln. A park entry permit is required at the Ponca and Platte River workshops.
