WHITEWOOD, S.D. (AP) - Hundreds of people filled the Black Hills town of Whitewood this past weekend as the community celebrated its 125th year of existence.

The biggest draw was the second annual Cruisin' Whitewood show and shine Saturday on Meade Street. The display featured more than 160 automobiles including more than 65 Chevy Camaros.

Other festivities included a free barbecue, kids' activities, a parade and Fargo, N.D., resident Keith Kanyuh says it was his first time in Whitewood and he was impressed with the camaraderie and fellowship. He says it's a cool little town that had more than he expected.
