LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) - Wyoming has concluded its spring football camp.

The Cowboys ended practice with a scrimmage on Saturday in Laramie. UW held 15 practices during spring drills.

Fifth-year UW coach Dave Christensen says he thought the spring practice was productive and noted there were no major injuries.

Following Saturday's scrimmage, Christensen noted how improvements by the defense in defending the run and pressuring the quarterback.

Offensively, Christensen was pleased with the faster tempo.

The coach says the team's focus now for the next couple of weeks is on academics.

The players will get some time off to go home before they return to Laramie on June 3 for summer strength and conditioning.
