LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) - Wyoming held its first spring practice in full pads and outdoors, and coach Dave Christensen liked what he saw.

The Cowboys practiced outside in War Memorial Stadium on Wednesday after conducting their previous three spring practices in the UW Indoor Practice Facility.

Christensen said he was pleased with his team's focus and performance.

The fifth-year coach noted the team had great effort and tempo and fewer mental errors.

Wyoming's next practice is scheduled for Friday at 8 a.m. in War Memorial Stadium. All spring practices are open to the public.
